ANILL OMEN.

CHICAGO, July 5.—An omen of trouble is given in an interview with one member of the Tammany hall delegation to the effect that his people will insist that a two-thirds vote will be required to unify the New York delegation in favor of any particular candidate. "Tis simply applying the rule of the party," said the delegate, in explanation, "which requires a two-thirds vote in the convention to nominate." If this rule is applied it is thought probable that the delegation may go into the convention with a divided front.
